President's Message

Lots of members to thank this week for the work at Farewell Farm. Anne Wilson was very gracious in her offer of use of Farewell Farm as a site for a potential fundraising event. This is our busy season as far as events with the eight concerts at the fair as opportunities to sell concessions and Football parking on Bluff Road at Mark Julian's office/ shop building.

The social committee is planning a Christmas party the night of December 8th at a community clubhouse in the Harbison area for members and family. The membership committee will be planning for a dinner meeting in late January with a Sertoma program for prospective members. Begin thinking of friends and colleagues you would like to receive an invitation to the dinner.

Attached to the email bulletin, you will find this year's calendar and the Committee assignments. Please let the appropriate vice president know if you cannot serve as suggested or if you would like to...

Business Meeting

- Sergeant @ Arms John Hedden gave the Invocation and Pledge of Allegiance.
- Meet the Member ~ Kenny Potter has a new job getting rebates for medical supplies which helps keep medical costs down for the consumer. He is married to Susan who is a kindergarten teacher. They have three children: Hayden, Hannah and Kendall.

- Farewell Farms Recap ~ Anne Wilson and Mark Julian reported good turnout from our membership and another successful fundraising project. The weather was great Saturday and wet Sunday and the football game reduced the turnout, however, with the help of the Optimist Club, and with $1,200 earned from parking and another $400 from t-shirt sales, our estimated net is $3,500, plus we all had a good time working together for our worthy causes. Accolades are due once again to Mark Julian and Chris Weston for spearheading this event.

- Football Parking ~ John Hedden reported income of $170 from Saturday's Football parking. Our next opportunity will be September 20 when USC takes on The University of Alabama - Birmingham.
- Web Site~ John Hedden has donated 2 golf bags to be raffled off to pay for a website. Tickets cost $5.00 and will be on sale for a couple of months.
- Coaches Corner~

Sterling Anderson reported that the USC kicking game was the culprit for not beating the spread against Univ. of LA. We had a good offensive game against UVA, mostly on the ground. We are having problems with our passing game, with 17 dropped passes in the last 2 games~ Correct this and we have a good chance against Georgia.

Neal Sutker said he made two errors in his prognostication about last week's game. He underestimated Georgia and overestimated Clemson. The Tigers take on Middle Tennessee this coming Saturday which will continue Clemson's tough competitive season. Neal was pretty quiet.
